

Race Problems Trouble Sixth Of All Africa

LONDON (AP)—Nearly one-sixth of the African continent is still troubled with racial problems 10 years after the rush toward independence started.

That huge area, a little less than 2 million square miles, includes South Africa, Rhodesia, Angola and Mozambique at the southern end of the continent.

Although African leaders often lump them together as "colonialist Africa" or "white-ruled Africa," in racial attitudes they do not lump easily.

Apartheid in South Africa is stronger medicine for the black man than the segregation practiced in Rhodesia. Both South Africa and Rhodesia frown on the easier interracial relationships which flourish in Angola and Mozambique between lower-class Portuguese whites and Africans.

Portuguese officials in Angola and Mozambique openly differ with South Africa's apartheid policy of strict segregation.

The Portuguese for centuries have mixed with many races, including the Africans. They encourage mixed farming communities and welcome interracial marriages.

The Portuguese do not admit to enforced segregation in Angola and Mozambique although they freely acknowledge there is "economic segregation." Any African is entitled to eat in the fanciest restaurants if he has the money, but not many have it.

On one aspect of the racial question, however, white South Africans, Rhodesians and Portuguese are united. They do not intend to have "one man, one vote" or black rule as long as they can fight it off. And they have the guns.

Segregation in South Africa is about as total as it can be in a society where Africans do most of the heavy work.

There are about 12 million Africans in South Africa. Slightly more than a third of them live in "homelands" or reserves. Another third work on the farms and the rest live outside the cities and towns where they work.

Private Guilty Of Refusal To Obey Viet Duty Order

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP)—Pfc. James A. Johnson Jr. was convicted today of refusing to obey an order to go to Viet Nam. The seven-man military court delivered the verdict after 16 minutes of deliberation.

Johnson, the second of three soldiers charged with refusing to go to Saigon, appeared to smile nervously as the board returned from deliberation.

He marched smartly up to the president of the general courtmartial, Col. Morris Zebrowitz. He saluted and heard the verdict.

After hearing the verdict, he again saluted, did an about face and was expressionless as he marched back to his seat.

Business Heads Term Johnson Move Mistake

NEW YORK (AP)—Business leaders have expressed varying degrees of dissatisfaction with President Johnson's proposal to dampen the fired-up economy by removing tax incentives for new plants and equipment.

Some executives criticized its timing and completeness and questioned whether it would have an immediate effect on inflation and high interest costs, a survey showed today.

Two financial experts, however, applauded the psychological effect of the move.

The plan received a pledge of support from organized labor.

Heading the list of the proposal's critics were Roger Bough, chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp., and William F. Butler, senior vice president of the Chase Manhattan Bank and director of its economic research division.

Both called it "a mistake."

"It's not the best program he could have proposed," Butler said, "because orders already placed will allow capital expansion to go on rising, possibly for another six months. The impact may come at the worst time, just as the overheating is ending."

Bough said the plan would not bring immediate relief and could have "just the opposite result of what it intended" by placing additional pressure on corporate borrowing or prices.

The President proposed that Congress suspend the 7 per cent investment tax credit for 16 months. Johnson promised on his part to cut federal spending and appealed to labor to forego demands for inflationary wage increases.

Gundlach Gets Tech Contract

HOUGHTON (AP)—Contracts have been awarded for construction of a new $5.8 million chemistry and biological sciences building at Michigan Technological University, Dr. R. L. High School No Poodle Kennel

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—About a dozen Middletown High School pupils have been sent home this week by officials enforcing rules barring "eccentric" hairstyles and clothing.

Asked about some of the boys' shaggy hairdos, Principal H. H. Lawrence said, "We are not running a kennel for poodles."

Johnson Signs Safe Car And Highway Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson signs into law the auto and highway safety bills today before an audience of congressmen, auto company officials, safety experts and auto industry critic Ralph Nader.

One bill gives the secretary of commerce authority to set safety standards for 1968 model cars, buses and trucks and to set standards within two years on tires and used cars.

The other provides funds for comprehensive state safety programs including driver education, vehicle inspection, highway lighting and traffic control.

Nader, 32, the attorney whose book "Unsafe at Any Speed" helped spur congressional action, said Thursday night he had been invited to the afternoon ceremony.

He said in an interview the final auto safety bill is "much better and stronger" than he had expected and that the Senate-House Conference Committee "accepted the best provisions of each bill, immeasurably strengthening it."

The conference committee accepted the stiffer enforcement provisions of the Senate's bill while adopting the broader coverage in the House version, including the authority for the government to set used-car safety standards within two years.

The auto safety law almost certainly would mean that 1968 cars will contain safety features such as head rests, dual brakes and additional interior padding which the government already has decided to require in cars it buys that year.

Kelley Seeks Free Speech For Campus

SOUTHFIELD (AP)—Freedom of speech on Michigan college campuses — including the admission of Communist speakers — will result in "a stronger and better nation," Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley told a group of lawyers Thursday.

He urged Michigan citizens to "rededicate themselves to the principles of academic freedom and freedom of speech on this eve of the new academic year," in remarks prepared for delivery to the Detroit Chapter of the Tau Epsilon Rho law fraternity.

"Unfortunately, there are a few self-anointed guardians of the political faith of our students who attempt to put earplugs in our students' ears and eyeshields on their eyes," Kelley said, adding:

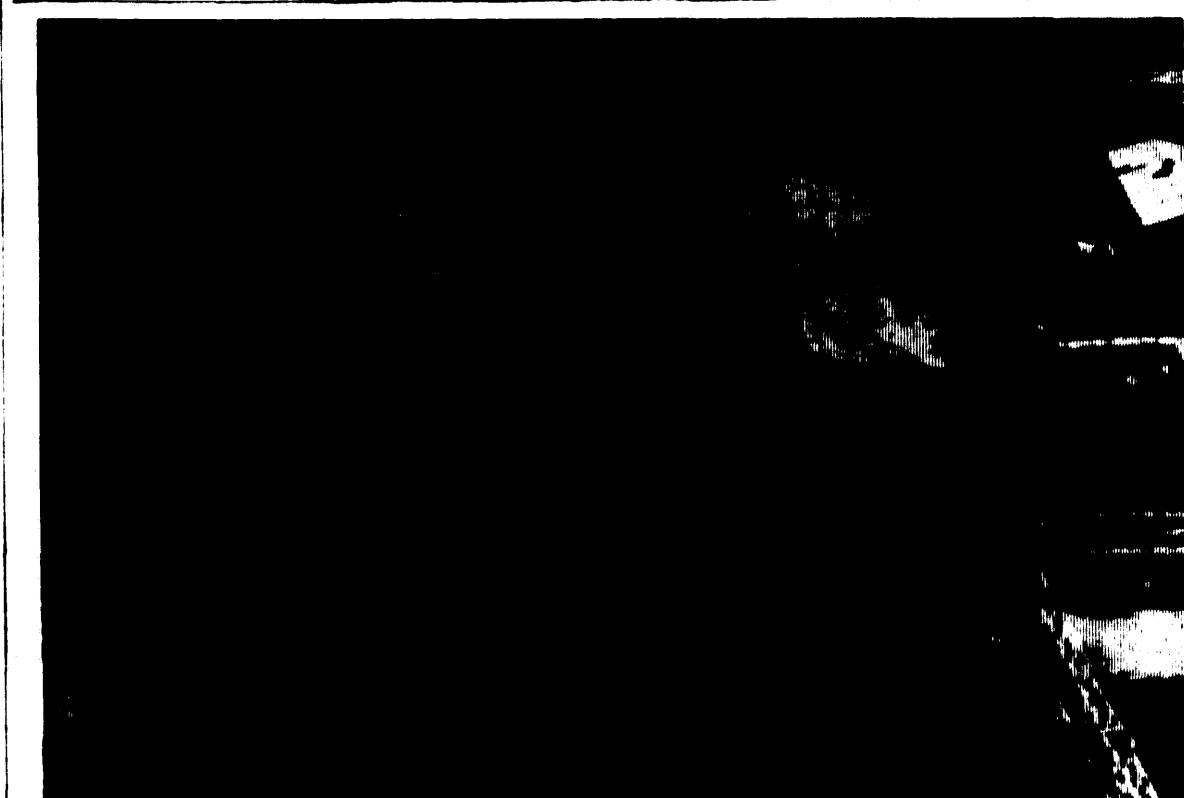

"They seek to build a wall like the Great Wall of China around the marketplace of ideas, which is the campus, and they hope by so doing to lock out what they consider to be poisonous ideas."

A fellow Democrat, Senate Majority Leader Raymond Drendzel of Detroit, led an unsuccessful drive in the Legislature this year to criticize universities that allowed Communist speakers on their campuses.

"We should have enough faith in the integrity and intelligence capacity of our youth to be confident in their ability to use their judgment in evaluating any speech that they might hear, or any competing ideology which might be presented to them," Kelley said.

Pinhole Leak Forces Delay For Gemini 11

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A pinhole leak in the fuel system of the Titan 2 booster rocket today forced a postponement of the flight of Gemini 11.

The leak was discovered just three hours before astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Richard F. Gordon Jr. were to wake up to start preparations for their three-day mission. They were allowed to continue sleeping.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said a new launch date would not be set until the seriousness of the problem was determined. No decision was expected before noon EST.

While there was an outside possibility of a Saturday launching, officials said it more likely would be two or more days.

The leak, in the first stage, was first detected by a technician checking ordnance devices on the rocket after its tanks had been loaded with 13,700 gallons of fuel and 15,900 gallons of oxidizer.

He noted a tell-tale reddish-brown wisp of vapor that indicated a leak and reported it to the blockhouse. About the same time, it was noted by instruments in the blockhouse.

"It was only a pinhole in a welded area," an official said. "But you can't fly with that type of situation."

The hole was so tiny that more vapor than liquid was escaping.

The launch crew immediately began dumping the 131 tons of fuel. Then they will have to purge the tanks before technicians can get in for a closer look.

If the leak can be repaired by a simple "tire patch" operation from the outside, the rocket could be ready to go in a day or so, officials said. But if the top of the oxidizer tank has to be removed and a man lowered into the trouble area, a delay of several days is likely, he added.

The Titan 2 oxidizer is nitrogen tetroxide. It is needed to provide oxygen for the main fuel, a mixture called aerazine 50, in the void of space.

This was the first major problem in the preparations for Gemini 11 — whose Sept. 9 launch date was set several months ago.

Voters To Decide Building Projects

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Washenaw County voters will decide on a $6,705,000 bond issue covering three projects when they go to the polls Nov. 8.

The Washenaw Board of Supervisors agreed Thursday to put the projects on the general election ballot.

Included is a 176-bed medical unit which would replace the present 81-bed county hospital. It would cost an estimated $4,050,000.

A two-story addition to the county building in Ann Arbor to cost an estimated $1,165,000, and a one-story juvenile court center to cost $1,490,000 also will be put to voters.

Vietnamese Say 150 Cong Killed In Fierce Fight

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Vietnamese infantrymen reported today they killed 150 main-force Viet Cong troops in a fierce battle in the central lowlands near the coast. U.S. Air Force planes accounted for up to 30 more Communist dead, a spokesman said.

The fighting was the only large action reported during another day of scattered Viet Cong terrorism aimed at disrupting South Viet Nam's elections Sunday. At least five persons were killed.

American pilots flew 135 bombing missions against North Viet Nam Thursday, concentrating on oil supply points and transportation lines in the Haiphong area and the southern Panhandle.

During a 13-hour attack, Air Force pilots hammered surface-to-air missile transport vans discovered 30 miles northwest of Dong Hoi. Eight flights of jets pummeled the missile equipment, destroying or damaging six vans with rockets and 500-pound bombs, a spokesman said.

The forays against the North also damaged or destroyed 36 cargo barges, 15 bridges, 32 trucks and 20 storage buildings, pilots reported.

U.S. military headquarters disclosed that the North Vietnamese are putting up barrage balloons as antiaircraft defenses in the Haiphong area.

A spokesman said the balloons, about 12 to 15 feet in diameter and moored to cables, were raised to an altitude of 3,000 feet. The tactic was reminiscent of London's defenses against German planes in the early days of World War II.

The spokesman said none of the balloons had been shot down by U.S. planes nor had any planes flown into them.

The ground battle occurred in coastal Binh Dinh Province in midafternoon when a battalion of Vietnamese infantrymen encountered an estimated 500 Viet Cong near Phu My, in the Phu Cat central area between coastal Route 1 and the mountains to the west.

The hard-pressed infantrymen called in a second government battalion while the U.S. Air Force threw super sonic Phantoms, F100 Super Sabres and Skyraiders into the battle.

The Communists broke off contact Thursday night, but the Vietnamese and a battalion of South Korean infantrymen continued mopping up today in the area 200 miles northeast of Saigon.

Government casualties were reported light over-all, a military term that frequently means heavy losses in some units.

The only ground action reported by the U.S. military command was a 90-minute fight between a company of American Marines and a platoon of North Vietnamese army regu-

President Asks Suspension Of Tax Incentives

WASHINGTON (AP)—Amid talk of new taxes and some sharp complaints, Congress moved today to speed consideration of President Johnson's new proposal for fighting inflation by suspending some business tax incentives.

The House Ways and Means Committee announced hearings next Monday on the presidential plan — outlined in a special message Thursday — to suspend for 16 months the 7-per cent tax credit for business spending on equipment and the tax-advantageous fast depreciation rules on business real estate.

The legislation was quickly introduced Thursday by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., committee chairman, who said the first witnesses will include Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor and Budget Director Charles L. Schultz.

In the Senate, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield announced that Democratic leaders in Congress had been consulted in advance of the message and had assured the President of their cooperation.

And Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., head of the Finance Committee, said that group will consider Johnson's proposals at an early date. The House must act first on the legislation.

Overstraining Supply
In his surprise message, Johnson said the stimulus to the equipment improvement needed a few years ago now is overstraining supplying factors and clogging capital markets with excessive demands for credit.

The business tax credit applies not only to equipment and machinery purchased by industry but to such farm production equipment as tractors. It does not, however, apply to livestock investments.

Johnson announced his new anti-inflation proposals at a news conference staged Thursday just as the special message arrived on Capitol Hill.

The conference dealt mainly with economics, but the President made these other points:

The question of troop withdrawal from Europe and other North Atlantic Treaty Organization problems are matters "more wisely handled" in NATO discussions first. Congressional action on U.S. troops abroad is not necessary at the moment.

The administration is seeking each day by "every means available to us" to sound out the chances for improved relations with Red China and an end to the war in Viet Nam.

Pledges Spending Cut
No one has communicated anything to the United States on French President Charles de Gaulle's suggestion that America withdraw its forces from Viet Nam.

In his message to Congress, Johnson pledged to "cut all federal expenditures to the fullest extent consistent with the well-being of our people." Moreover, he told Congress, bills he already passed have added about $2.25 billion to the spending authority he requested and pending bills could add almost $4 billion.

He said: "When the Congress votes for additional appropriations bills, it must bear in mind that each vote to increase the budget will likely require a vote to increase the revenue later."

This plea for restraint in spending — coupled with warnings that budget excesses might require more direct tax boosts — stirred speculation.

Plowman Awards

JEFFERSON, Iowa (AP)—Three Springfield, Mich., plowmen received All-American Plowman awards Thursday night at a banquet in connection with the national plowing matches. The three, who were among 14 former national champions receiving awards, were Glen Steward, Leroy Losey and George Lininger. They were to receive scrolls today signed by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Adult Education Confab Monday

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—A conference designed to aid schools in establishing adult education programs will be held here Sept. 12 (Monday). Northern Michigan Community Action Program (NORCAP) announced Thursday.

Jack L. Carpenter, educational programs specialist for NORCAP, said 160 school superintendents in 33 counties have been invited to attend.

He said the conference was in answer to a large number of inquiries from schools asking assistance in establishing or expanding adult education programs.

Tody New Chief Of Fish Division

LANSING (AP) — The Conservation Department's fish division had a new chief Thursday, and right away he had a new chief Thursday, and right away he had good news to report about the state's new sports fish, the Coho Salmon.

Wayne Tody, a 19-year veteran of fisheries work in Michigan, provisionally was named fish division chief, pending a civil service promotional examination to be held among top candidates for the post.

He has been acting chief since July, when Howard Tanner left for a job at Michigan State University.

"We are very optimistic that a few thousand Coho will run between now and December," Tody told an informal meeting of the Conservation Commission Thursday.

About 800,000 four-to-six-inch Coho were planted last spring in Bear Creek, Manistee County; Platt River, Benzie County; and Big Huron River, Baraga County.

Conservation Department men recently caught 12 15-17-inch Coho in the Platt River.

Great Lakes commercial fishermen already have netted about 50 of the fast-growing fish, but last weekend, for the first time, a sports fisherman landed a Coho in Bear Creek, Tody reported.

The peak of the Coho run back into the three streams in which they were planted is expected in early October. The season for Coho, under extended fall season regulations, runs through the end of November.

Tody said the department plans to plant about 2 million Coho next spring and 2 million in the spring of 1968.

Rep. Russell Hellman, D-Dollar Bay, also appeared before the commission Thursday, asking its support for a plan to donate 5,000 acres of state land in the Grand Marais-Munising area for the proposed Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore.

The commission was expected to endorse the idea at its formal meeting today, but legislation would be needed to make the donation, if Congress approves the lakeshore.

Auto Workers Leaders Will Attend Workshop

The Upper Peninsula will be represented at the United Auto Workers School for local union leadership at Fidelman's Resort, South Haven, Sept. 11-16. Five communications clinics will be offered, to cover, education, programming, promoting active citizenship, in-plant communications systems, writing, and effective speaking.

Regional UAW director Ken Robinson said the four vital issues to be discussed by the delegates are: The Ultra Right, the UAW in Politics, The Problems of Minority Groups and Prices, Paychecks and Profits. Harnischfeger Local 632 UAW will be represented at the school by Maurice Harrison, president; Richard Peterson, financial secretary; and John Curran, grievance committee man.

Horse Show Is Set For Sunday

The Silver Spur Saddle Club will hold its seventh annual Horse Show on Sunday, Sept. 18, at the club's show area known as "Hi Country" on the Gladstone bluff near Fernwood Cemetery.

The first event will begin at 10 a.m. and the show will continue throughout the day. Fitting and showing at halter, western pleasure riding, pole bending and barrel racing will be the main events. Others will be added if time permits.

This show is authorized by the U.P. Horseman's Association and all points earned will count toward the seasonal total which will determine the winners of the association's annual trophies. There will be one more show this season so competition is coming right down to the wire. Top riders from all over the U.P. will be present and competition will be keen.

The event will be judged by a veteran horseman, William Beaumont, of Oconto, Wis. The Silver Spur Saddle Club is the pioneer riding club of the U.P. and has held more shows than any other.

The show will be held regardless of the weather. There will be a small admittance charge for spectators. Lunch will be available on the grounds.

Veteran Buys Menominee Hotel

HERMANVILLE — Earl H. Koehler, of Stephenson, today announced the purchase of the Menominee Hotel property here from Charles W. Peacock of Benton Harbor.

The Menominee Hotel, one of the community's landmarks and once boasted of its designation as the finest Menominee County hotel north of Menominee, will be completely renovated. The first floor of the three-story structure will house commercial enterprises such as a beauty salon, barber shop and other business ventures. The second and third stories will be remodeled into apartments. An architectural firm is now working on conversion plans.

The hotel project started with the purchase of the land on Main St. on Dec. 30, 1911 and the three-story brick structure was built at a cost of approximately $30,000 by Mr. and Mrs. August Wendt. The late John J. O'Hara of Menominee, later state auditor general, was toastmaster at the opening banquet held at the hotel.

The Wendts operated the hotel from 1912 to 1932 successfully. The second floor was used for transient and the third floor by community residents.

Wendt was a partner in the Wendt-Bartl grocery and was a stockholder in the large fox farm operations here.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Grunewald operated the hotel in 1932-35. After the Grunewalds left the community, the Wendt family moved back. The Wendts occupied it as a residence and started to convert the hotel into apartments but in that occupancy Mrs. Wendt died and then Mr. Wendt died in 1942.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nieman operated the hotel from 1943 until they sold it to Mr. and Mrs. John Flaugher of Grosse Pointe, Mich., on June 20, 1946.

Flaugher later sold the property to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fournier of Oak Park, Ill., on Sept. 22, 1947. The Fourniers operated the hotel until they sold it to Charles W. Peacock on Dec. 29, 1950. Peacock operated the hotel until 1952. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swanson operated it in 1953-58. Since then the building has been idle.

Koehler, 32, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Koehler of Stephenson. He graduated from Stephenson High School in 1952, and served in the Air Force in 1954-58 as a radar technician. Following his tour of duty he served as a technical representative for different corporations on contract with the Air Force for nine years. This included 3½ years in Japan, and 6 months in the Philippines, Viet Nam and Thailand. He attended the University of Maryland at Tokyo for one year.

Novel Cooking School Held By Ensigns

A novel cooking school was held by the foods-nutrition members of Ensigns 4-H Club at the Ensign home of Mrs. Herbert Lundin. Fifty persons attended the school, which began with members singing "Cum Ba Ya".

Jean Novak, mistress of ceremonies, introduced the cooking demonstrations. Each demonstration was appropriate for the demonstrator's age, the older girls showing the most difficult cooking preparations and the younger girls, the simplified cooking arts.

Dannette Peterson demonstrated the making of "Sally Lunn Bread", Christine Dominick, blueberry muffins, and Gail Sundberg colorful gelatin popovers. Carolyn Nelson presented samples to the audience of her, "Orange Peel Candy".

The demonstrations were completed with a "China Pie" casserole dish made by Connie Lundin and an interesting show by Linda Norlander of the proper way to glaze and decorate a ham. The evening's program included a vocal solo, "Moon River", sung by Carolyn Nelson, and humorous stories told by Donna Rasmussen. Assisting with the food preparations were members, Kathy Johnson and Maxine Constantino.

Shopping Center Decision Promised In About A Week

The Escanaba Planning Commission, confronted with its most controversial zoning problem in years, has promised it will make a decision on a request to rezone for a shopping center on S. 23rd St. within a week.

There will be no "snap decision," Commission Chairman Dale Vinette told an overflow audience at a public hearing in the Council Chambers in City Hall Thursday night.

Committees of the Commission will meet and persons who spoke last night may be requested to return to give further information, Vinette said.

But he saw no reason to continue the study for more than a week before the Commission will decide whether to approve or reject the zoning change request.

Then To Council

The request was submitted to the Commission by the Walch Development Co. of Escanaba and was amended last night to include a lesser area.

As it now stands the request is to change the zoning from Class A Residential to Commercial on approximately 18.3 acres of land located west of S. 23rd St. at 14th Ave. S.

The area is bounded on the east by S. 23rd St. (600 feet of frontage); on the north by 14th Ave. S. (1200 feet of frontage); and on the west by the municipal airport.

The purpose of the Thursday night hearing before the Commission was to give that body information on which it will base its decision: To approve the request and so recommend to the City Council; or to reject the request and so recommend to the Council.

The Council's responsibility (in the event there is a favorable recommendation) will be to consider the request further and if it desires to make the zoning change adopt an ordinance making the change legal. A public hearing must be held by the Council before adoption of the ordinance.

There was a clearly drawn line of opposition to the request from the owners of properties and retail businesses in Escanaba's downtown district.

Atty. Robert E. LeMire represented the Walch Development Co. John and David Walch were at the hearing, as was Ellsworth Johnson, Minneapolis, representing the Western Land Development Co. which is associated with the Walches in the application for the zoning change.

Atty. Wheaton Strom represents a number of property owners in the community who are opposed to the rezoning. These include the First National Bank, the State Bank of Escanaba, and others.

The position of the Walch Development Co. is that rezoning and the construction of a shopping center on S. 23rd St. will be "a tremendous asset to the community and beautify the area."

Big Investment

The position of the Walch Development Co. is that rezoning and the construction of a shopping center on S. 23rd St. will be "a tremendous asset to the community and beautify the area."

The shopping center would mean an investment of about $1½ million with about $700,000 going on the tax rolls; completion is planned for the immediate future; and the developers will supply their own customer parking, the Commission was told.

The Walchs own 300 acres of land in and adjacent to Escanaba and if the request for rezoning on S. 23rd St. is rejected the shopping center will be located elsewhere—perhaps outside the city.

Johnson of Western Land Development Co. said his firm has had Escanaba on its list for three years; and that "we cannot economically place the kind of facility our clients want in a downtown area."

Wait For Plan?

Speaking in opposition to the request, Atty. Strom said that he and his clients feel "the entire (shopping center) project has an atmosphere of a rush and uncertainty about it." This is indicated in the amendments to the request made last night, he said.

Escanaba presently is in the process of a comprehensive city planning study which will cost in excess of $24,000 local and federal funds, he noted. This project is about 50 per cent complete.

Garden Soldier In Viet Nam With Armored Regiment

VIET NAM — A young Garden soldier has arrived in Viet Nam for duty with an Army unit that took part in the Philippine Insurrection of 1899-1903. The highly mobile 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment landed in Viet Nam this week.

Pfc. Charles R. Lovell, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lovell, Star Rte., Garden, accompanied the unit as a cannonier in Howitzer Battery, 1st Reconnaissance Squadron. Lovell entered the Army in Sept., 1965, and was stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., before assignment to the 11th Armored Cavalry at Fort George G. Mead, Md. Lovell is a 1963 graduate of Garden high school.

The Commission and the City Council should wait until the professional planners have completed their study; the people of Escanaba's downtown area ask only that the decision be delayed until the report of the planning consultants is available; and if there can be one shopping center allowed then others will undoubtedly follow, the Commission was told.

Others who addressed comments to the Commission were: Ed Kositzky and John Sauve, who said that a poll of union members they represented favored the shopping center. Sauve said downtown parking space should be provided by downtown merchants, not by spending "taxpayers' money."

Parking Funds

Forrest Henalee, Escanaba banker, replied that the City of Escanaba has collected "in excess of $200,000" from parking meters, mostly in the downtown area, and has not purchased a single off-street parking lot there. This money came from "the taxpayers" and at least a portion of it should have been used for parking lot acquisition, he said.

Charles Gessner, representing one of Escanaba's pioneer retail families, cited the city's prospects for growth and the opportunities that urban renewal will bring to the downtown business district and to the community in general.

Don't forget the plan for community development and don't kill the taxable property values in the city's heart, he urged the Commission.

Robert Mosenfelder, Escanaba retailer, asked the Commission not to be swayed by threats to move the proposed shopping center out of the city, but to consider the total community benefit in making a decision.

Traffic UP, Road Work Down

By CLINT DUNATHAN
Traffic volume is up on highways in the Upper Peninsula—but there's a lack of road revenues statewide and highways are in a worsening condition from year to year.

One of the most critically deteriorated sections of highway in the U. P. combines two main arteries: U. S. 2 and U. S. 41 from Rapid River south to Powers-Spaulding.

Except for the four-lane improved section between Escanaba and Gladstone the highway pavement is narrow and broken and dangerously inadequate for today's traffic.

But because of lack of funds the Michigan State Highway Commission will be unable to do anything about it for another two or three years.

Over State Average
The rise in traffic volume in the Upper Peninsula has been particularly dramatic this summer, reports H. H. Cooper, director of the traffic division of the Department of State Highways.

"Throughout the first six months in 1966, the recorded increase for the Upper Peninsula has been 10.1 per cent, compared to a statewide increase of 8.5 per cent," Cooper said.

"It is important to note that recreational traffic in the Upper Peninsula is greater during the months of July and August, and that the increase we have noted for July is greater than the yearly trends. This is due in part to July, 1965, when weather conditions were not as ideal as in July, 1966," he reported on Aug. 30.

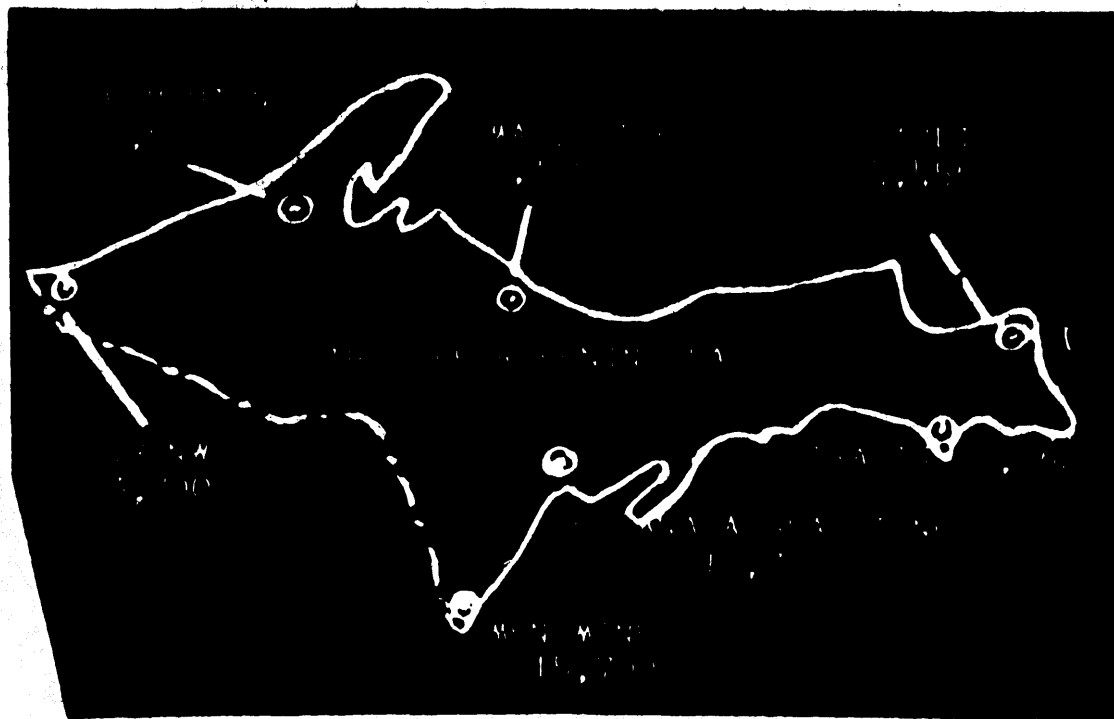

Cooper provides some statistics that tell a convincing story of traffic growth at key locations in the U. P.

Where Traffic Is
The average daily traffic in July at the Escanaba River Bridge between Escanaba and Gladstone has increased from HIGHEST TRAFFIC volume locations in the U.P. do not necessarily have the most improved highways. The map shows the average daily traffic (number of vehicles) at key locations in the U.P. in July.

10,200 last year to 10,700 this year. This 10,700 daily average traffic count, incidentally, is higher than any other key location in the U. P. with one exception.

The average daily traffic figures (number of vehicles) for July:

Menominee River Bridge (U. S. 41)—15,700.
Escanaba-Gladstone (U. S. 2-41 and M 35) at the Escanaba River Bridge—10,700.
Interstate 75 at the M 28 interchange—10,000.

August Cool In Escanaba

August in Escanaba averaged a temperature of 64.2 degrees which was 1.4 below normal, the U.S. Weather Bureau reports. The month followed one of the hottest Julys in this century.

The highest temperature was 82 degrees on Aug. 29 and the lowest 46 degrees on the 12th. Total rainfall was 3 inches, which was 0.11 inch below normal, but there were four more days with measurable precipitation than the average for August.

Adv.

Interstate 75 at the Mackinac Bridge—9,562.
U. S. 41 and M 28 at the northeast limits of Negaunee (near Marquette)—8,100.
Houghton at U. S. 41—5,600.
Interstate 75 at the Sault Ste. Marie Bridge—4,456.
West of Ironwood on U. S. 2—3,700.

The statistics are the basis for further comparison of traffic volume and highway condition and expenditures.

Dollars Lacking
For example, Interstate 75 traverses one small section of the U. P. from the Straits of Mackinac (St. Ignace) to Sault Ste. Marie. It has had the benefit of federal dollars not available to other routes. It is by far the most modern highway in northern Michigan.

The volume of traffic in July this year and last on Interstate 75 was below that on other and far less adequate roadways in the Peninsula.

The answer, of course, is not to divert dollars from Interstate 75 but to improve the other highways in the U. P. that do carry a larger volume of traffic.

This can be done, according to the Michigan Good Roads Federation, only by closing the state roadway "dollar gap" between highway needs and highway revenues. For example, Michigan ranks at the bottom, son.

in the amount of weight and fuel taxes collected among the nation's 50 states, reports James Telford, president of the Michigan Good Roads Federation.

The cost of highway construction continues to climb, highway traffic volumes go up—and highway improvement programs are going down. Lack of road building funds is crippling road-building.

Joki Son-In-Law Is Named Dean

MARQUETTE—Appointment of Dr. Ronald J. Lewis, associate professor of business, as acting dean of the school of business at Northern Michigan University, was announced today by President Edgar L. Harden.

Dr. Lewis, a native of Windsor, Ontario, Canada, came to Northern last year after serving on the faculty at Michigan State University East Lansing.

Dr. Lewis, his wife, the former Margaret Joki of Negaunee, and their three sons, Jeffrey, 13, Randy, 12, and Gary, 9, reside at 305 Jonathan Carver Road, Marquette. Mrs. Lewis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jalmer Joki, Stephen.

William LeMay Dies Friday

William LeMay, 82, Powers, died at 1:45 a. m. today, at Dickinson Memorial Hospital in Iron Mountain, where he had been a patient for one week.

He was born July 9, 1884, in Powers and lived there all his life. He was a member of St. Francis Xavier Church in Spaulding.

Surviving are one brother, Edward of Lily, Wis.; four sisters, Mrs. Chloe Lawrence, Milwaukee, Jeanne, Powers, Mrs. Fred Baribeau, Goodman, Wis., and Mrs. Harry Luft, Carney; and one nephew, who he raised, Kenneth Bellmore, Powers.

Friends may call at the Kell-Tondin Chapel in Spaulding, Sunday after 3.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Francis Xavier Church in Spaulding and burial will be in Spaulding Township Cemetery. Parish prayers will be recited Sunday at 8 p. m.

Romstad Joins College Faculty

The Bay de Noc Community College Board announces that Jack Romstad will join the college faculty to teach and direct a major new program of study in radio and television broadcasting.

Romstad finished his second master's degree this summer at the University of Hawaii and is well known for his work in theater productions in the community. His first master's degree was from the University of Michigan. This work, together with a wide variety of other colleges attended, has included considerable study in radio and television.

The new program is for students interested in radio and television station work. Graduates of the program will be assured of employment as program directors, announcers, broadcast technicians and engineers, advertising time salesman, and in administrative positions. The course of study includes work with the college television equipment and radio experience through the cooperation of WDBC.

The board awarded a contract for coal to the Delta Coal & Dock Co. on its low bid of $12.20 per ton.

The board also took preliminary steps to rent the William Bonifas gymnasium for college physical education classes.

Training Session Of Toastmasters Well Attended

The Northern Division training session for Area N-5 of Toastmasters International was held at Callahan's Restaurant in Manistique, Thursday evening.

The area includes the Bay de Noc Club of Escanaba, Vacationland of Iron Mountain, Speakeasy of K.I. Sawyer and Paul Bunyan of Manistique. Area Governor William L. Miller conducted the Area Council and business meeting. John Kelly of the Paul Bunyan Club was toastmaster for the evening. Registration was in the charge of Tom McDermott and Walter Peterson, with invocation by Fred Fisher, all from Bay de Noc. A comprehensive officer training program was under the tutelage of division and district officers from Wisconsin.

The new presidents were instructed by Robert Last, district governor, Educational Vice President Arthur Garvey, Administrative Vice Presidents John Wallace, Secretary Carl Kopischke, Treasurer Charles Dinaur, Sergeant at Arms Cecil Turner.

A report was given by Deo Kingsley, district public relations director.

Other local club members in attendance were John Stoll, Escanaba and Jim Rogers, Graham P. Widdis, Kenneth Gehrke, Tony Wuehle, and Bob Kanerva of Manistique. The Bay de Noc Club will hold its first dinner meeting for the new year on Monday night, 6:30 p.m. Sept. 12 at Marco's. Persons interested in Toastmasters are invited to attend.

Delta District Has Two Fires

Five fires were reported in the Upper Peninsula in the week ending Sept. 3.

Two fires were reported in the Escanaba District of Delta and Marquette counties and the west half of Alger, burning 7.5 acres. To date it had 120 fires burning 1,538 acres. A total of 374 fires have burned 2,382 acres in the U. P. to date. Last year at this time 206 fires burned 361 acres.

The Dutch, in 1600, were first to make gin by adding juniper berries to "schnapps."

4 College Trustee Jobs Open

Elect Bay Board Nov. 8

Bay de Noc Community College Board of Trustees meeting at the college Thursday night set up procedures for the election of new board members in the Nov. 8 election.

There will be four offices to be filled, one of them added by new state law on community colleges which takes effect Oct. 1, and the other three to fill expiring terms.

Two regular six year board positions are open. They are now held by James Dotsch of Garden and Robert Groos of Groos. Petitions for the nomination of Robert Groos, seeking his re-election on Nov. 8 are being circulated.

Dotsch indicated that he would not be a candidate for re-election.

Arthur Slaughter was appointed to fill the unexpired term created by the resignation of Dr. Albert Jenke, of Bark River, who moved to California. This office will be open for election for a four year term and nominating petitions for Slaughter are being circulated.

President Richard Rinehart said any elector of the community college district—Delta County—is eligible to be elected a board member. Candidates are nominated by petition signed by not less than 50 nor more than 200 registered electors in the district and filed by 4 p. m. on the 30th day before the Nov. 8 election.

Ruppe Talks At Spaulding On Sunday Evening

Philip E. Ruppe, the 11th District Republican nominee for Congress, will open his Marquette Headquarters at 300 W. Washington St. Saturday noon with a ribbon-cutting ceremony. He has also scheduled an appearance at the Northern Michigan Football game in Marquette and will attend a union meeting at the VFW Clubroom in Crystal Falls that evening.

Ruppe will deliver a major policy address at St. Francis Xavier Church in Powers-Spaulding Sunday evening. An estimated 150 people are expected to attend the 6:30 dinner which has been organized and sponsored by the "Citizens for Ruppe Committee" in Menominee County. Dr. John Petrach of Daggett, the county Ruppe Chairman said "the public is invited to come out and hear the candidate and his stand on the issues." Petrach said there will be a question and answer period after Ruppe's talk.

Trout Season Ends Sunday, Including Gwinn Area Lakes

The Conservation Dept. today warned fishermen that three trout lakes near Gwinn have been taken off the "experimental" list and that fishing will close in the lakes Sunday.

Robert Timmer, Escanaba district law supervisor, said Airport, Swanzy and Mocassin Lakes in Marquette County previously remained open after the close of the regular season because they were considered "experimental lakes" by the department. As experimental lakes all three remained open for fishing until Oct. 15.

Timmer said this year the lakes are listed by the department as trout lakes and will close at the regular time. The 1966 trout season—except for specially designated waters—closes Sunday. Lists of streams and lakes which remain open for a special season are available at Department headquarters.

The Pulpwood Shower

The pulpwood is moving to the mills on Upper Peninsula highways and railroads now. Of course, it really moves to the mills the year around, but there's a specially large traffic now because the summer cut of peeled aspen (popple) is going to market to earn the money to buy a 1967 car and to send Susie to college.

Through the summer the bright wood has marked the forest floor in a jackstraws pattern of bright craze that makes air travelers wonder what they're looking at the first time they see it. (Or, if they're incurious, maybe the 20th time?)

The traffic is one of the sights for tourists on Upper Peninsula highways. Lumberjacking is a colorful business and it has lost none of its allure for the big city person, we'd say, in modernization. Where once two husky men swung a crosscut to fell timber, now a man holds a husky little chainsaw and cuts down trees in a twinkling. And where once a pair of big Belgian horses sleighhailed timber to a river, hot logging sends much of it from the stump right to the mill on a truck.

The pulpwood harvest is a very important business in the Upper Peninsula. It alone amounts to almost twice the income from U.P. farming and this is not counting the other woods that go to market from the area's forests.

And it will be good news to everyone that this business is looking up. Last year it made a lot of news about the threat of the new Michigan workmen's compensation law as applied to woods work. This year the figures are in on the results and it is clear that while the state's requirement that all employees in woods work be covered by workmen's comp, the big added cost of the coverage has not been sufficient to knock out the wood harvest.

Compensating for the increased cost has been a pulpwood price increase. Mills are now paying up to $24.50 a cord for peeled aspen delivered and this brings a smile to loggers who have been rather grim about the business for several years.

Ray Pfeifer of the Conservation Department, chief state analyst of the pulp market, reports that although pulpwood production in Michigan was jolted badly by the new labor legislation in 1965, the sharp slowdown in woods work followed such an expanded production earlier in the year that the net result was a record production.

This year, says Pfeifer, new influences are boosting pulpwood production to the highest levels in history. The new influences are chiefly increased prices. Costs continue to rise but the pulpwood price boosts gave the loggers a chance for a more substantial profit. Inevitably, too, the squeeze made them cut some more corners and tighten up their woods operations.

The U.P. produced 740,836 cords of pulpwood in 1965 of the state's total of 1,314,188 cords of roundwood. This is a huge contribution to the U.P.'s economy. It is especially significant because it is a renewable resource and represents an actual improvement in U.P. forests, so that their production should be upgraded and increased in the years ahead.

It would be even more meaningful, economically, if more of the wood could be kept in the U.P. for processing in U.P. mills, so that the area gained the benefits of payroll and taxes provided by manufacture.

Pfeifer's figures aren't broken down between U.P. and Lower Peninsula, but he says that 608,000 cords of Michigan wood went to Wisconsin mills and virtually all of this came from the Upper Peninsula, which used only 159,000 cords of U.P. wood in its own mills. Lower Michigan mills used 592,000 cords of Michigan wood.

Pfeifer's good news will be of interest to all parts of the U.P. community. The sportsmen will welcome it because the cutting of forests is a chief means of supplying our big deer herd with feed. And, of course, the harvest renews the forest and adds to beauty that our own people and our visitors enjoy so much.

Teen Drivers

Young people, with young eyes and young reflexes that will never be as sharp again, ought to be the best drivers in the world.

Yet teen-age drivers have the highest accident rate of any age group and the second highest fatality rate. Indeed, if these rates continue, by the time this year's newly licensed teen drivers reach 25, they will have been involved in 15,000 fatal accidents, more than half a million serious injury accidents and will have been responsible for accident expenses of more than $2.5 billion.

The figures come from Ford Motor Co., whose Lincoln-Mercury Division has for three years helped sponsor the National Safe Driving Auto Road-F.O. Since the competition was begun in 1957 by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, more than three million teen-age drivers have participated.

Statisticians are confident, however, that given the native ability of teen-agers, the grim prediction of future deaths and injuries can be considerably changed by the expansion of similar programs into every community in America.

Citizen Rights

Col. Daniel James Jr. brought members of the Tucson, Ariz., Advertising Club to their feet in a prolonged ovation when he addressed them recently.

This is what he said:

"No man is a second-class citizen unless he thinks like one and acts like one.

"I will never turn my back on the American flag — my flag — the American flag.

"I will obey the laws of this country. And if I want to register a complaint, I will use the duly established process of law and order.

"I am not against protests, because protesters have never been denied in this country. But protests should be carried out within the bounds of good taste.

"Men who have given their lives for democracy would be spinning in their graves if they knew of the division among Americans today.

"I am a free-thinking citizen. If an obstacle is placed in my way, I do not consider it a problem. It is a challenge, and I will meet it."

Col. James is deputy commander for operations for the 4153d Combat Crew Training Wing at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base. He is a jet pilot. He is also, incidentally, a Negro.

Union Extends Coverage

UAW Offers Mental Care

Nearly 1.25 million Michiganders became eligible Sept. 1 for more mental health services as a result of a collective bargaining agreement between the United Auto Workers and UAW employers.

The new benefit program, one of the first of its kind in the country, will pay each enrollee up to $400 per year for out-of-hospital care and all costs of in-hospital care for a 45-day period. Previously, most prepayment or insurance plans paid nothing for out-of-hospital mental health care and covered expenses in the hospital only for 30 days.

Top officials of the Michigan Department of Mental Health—biggest supplier of mental health services in the state—are happy to see the new benefits become effective. "We've followed the developments in the UAW mental health programs with a great deal of interest," reports Dr. Robert A. Kimmich, director of the department.

Estimates of the UAW indicate that 2.5 million active workers, retirees, and dependents to age 25 will be covered under the program in the U.S. About half of the number reside in Michigan.

UAW officials believe that many of these people need mental health services and that heretofore, they weren't getting them—many because of a lack of finances.

Dr. Kimmich explained that mental illness today can be compared to pneumonia: "If a person reports to his physician promptly when he suspects pneumonia, the doctor can treat the disease on the spot and probably eliminate the possibility that the person might have to be hospitalized," Dr. Kimmich said. "Mental illness is similar. We have the techniques to treat most mentally ill patients in the clinic if they come to us soon enough. And even if hospitalization is required, the stay will be much shorter if the illness hasn't progressed to a critical state."

Dr. Theodore Goldberg, UAW social security consultant says: "There is increasing evidence that mental illness is disproportionately a problem for people classified as members of the working class."

Dr. Goldberg points out that when mental illness reaches diagnosed proportions in workers, 80 per cent of them are already seriously ill (psychotic). When it appears in middle class families, 55 per cent are psychotic. When it appears in upper class families, only 35 per cent are psychotic.

Primarily this is because they wait to seek help. Dr. Goldberg says: "Unfortunately, there has been substantial documentation of worker's resistance to and suspicion of the help that is or can be made available in the community. Traditional forms of therapy as well as traditional therapists have been viewed with grave foreboding not out of any basic antagonism to the profession or its practitioners but simply as a reflection of the fear and anxiety with which workers view mental illness."

The Doctor Says:

Have A Beautiful Smile

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Dear Dr. Lawrence: I'm a girl of 17 and could be fairly attractive if it weren't for my front teeth. I never got my two lateral teeth and the eye-teeth came in where the laterals should be, right beside my front teeth. They look like fangs. What can be done about it and how much would it cost? I've been saving my money and want to know if I have nearly enough.

This anomaly can certainly be corrected, and in a routine manner. In this day and age of modern dentistry none need suffer from bad-looking teeth.

Ideally, the eye-teeth should be moved back to their original position in the jaw. This can be done with orthodontic appliances. The spaces thus created would leave room enough to replace the missing laterals. This should be done by means of fixed bridges that are attached to eye-teeth alone, or to both eye-teeth and central incisors. The choice is dependent on conditions that exist and the evaluation and ability of the dentist.

Alas, it is expensive. It's hard to say how much since it differs in all parts of the country, and from dentist to dentist. But it's not expensive for the type of work required. It calls for many hours of detail and a delicate skill. And there is a continuing responsibility. A dentist's professional career is only as secure as the last bridge he has completed.

Ask your dentist. Most of them are very considerate of their regular patient's ability to pay. He might suggest an alternative, less expensive, which may suit your case almost as well.

In England, where most den-ististry is paid for by the government, two important cases relating to teeth were recently settled in the following manner:

CASE 1. An old lady whose teeth were stolen from her bedside during the night by a rat, will have them replaced free of charge.

CASE 2. A man who lost his teeth while being chased and arrested by police, and subsequently jailed, will have to pay for his new set.

Please send your questions about dental health to Dr. Lawrence in care of this paper. While he cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Electronic Toys Show

By WASHINGTON STAFF
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Presidential staff people traveling with Lyndon Johnson carry little walkie-talkies to communicate with each other and with such bases as they may establish along the way.

"Hello, this is Jones, calling LBJ base. We're just crossing the bridge. How far is it from here?"

So it goes. Except, recently, at Quonset Point, R. I., two staff men were observed in earnest chatter over their electronic gadgets. A reporter not far off drew closer. Then he pointed out that they were talking to each other, though standing back to back just a few feet apart.

Sheepishly, they turned around and resumed talking, face to face, in the old-fashioned way.

Some of the people who set down President Johnson's speeches have heard his favorite anecdotes so often they no longer scribble out the details. They just use numbers to designate the tales.

For example, "No. 7" might be applied to the yarn the President tells about how, one by one, the leaders of different religions got angry over his aid to education program, only to be persuaded by him finally that it would be good for all.

Says LBJ: "Before sundown that night, we had the cardinals, we had the rabbis and we had Billy (Graham)."

Whenever he gets one of those ultra-lavish introductions at a speech, Rep. George Gridler, D-Tenn., says:

"Thank you for that overly generous introduction. I hate to deny its accuracy, but it does remind me of the time a speaker was introduced as a man 'who had made a million dollars in oil in California.'"

"This man pointed out positively that it wasn't California, but Pennsylvania, and that it was coal, not oil. Also, he said, it wasn't a million dollars, just half a million. Then he observed that it was his brother, not him."

And finally, he pointed out, his brother didn't make it. He lost it."

Hanoi Broadcast Rejects Schedule To Quit Viet Nam

TOKYO (AP) — Radio Hanoi has rejected President Johnson's call on the North Vietnamese Communists to draw up a schedule for halting infiltration in South Viet Nam.

Radio Hanoi, in a Japanese language broadcast monitored in Tokyo, said "those who must go out of Viet Nam are U.S. imperialists, the aggressors."

The broadcast commented on Johnson's statement made Monday in Detroit, in which he said he will fix a timetable for withdrawal of U.S. troops as soon as he sees a schedule for halting infiltration from the north.

Johnson's statement was a response to a call by French President Charles de Gaulle for a U.S. agreement to fix a troop withdrawal schedule as a prelude to peace talks.

The Hanoi Radio said the "Vietnamese people will fight resolutely to wipe out U.S. imperialism from Viet Nam until the American aggressors accept our stand."

Ann Landers Housework For Horse Says Mrs. High IQ

Dear Ann Landers: I've been married for five years to a woman who still wears her Phi Beta Kappa key on a chain around her neck. I don't mind the key, but her neck is dirty.

And so is the house, which is why I am writing. We moved into this brand new duplex when we first married. My wife hasn't had a rug cleaned, or washed the curtains or walls since we moved in. The laundry is sent out and I've asked her why she doesn't just send the curtains. She says she has not got time to take them down.

I'm not a nut on dirt, but this place is more than I can stand. When I ask her to please clean up the hallway before somebody falls down the basement stairs, she says, "Housework is for horses."

The woman is a great reader, which is what she must do all day. We have no children and we eat out most of the time. Is there a solution or am I stuck forever? —DUKE

Dear Duke: Hire a cleaning woman and give her instructions—in other words, take over. If you wait for Mrs. I.Q. to do it, it'll never get done.

Of course it's rotten that you should have to do this, but it's the only realistic solution to your problem.

Dear Ann Landers: My sister and I have had a bitter quarrel about her 15-year-old daughter.

I love my niece and I worry about her. She is going steady with a boy 17. They see each other every evening. On weekends he is at their home from morning till night. My niece has no girl friends and the boy has no boy friends. They are interested only in each other.

When I suggested that my sister should not allow her daughter to spend so much time with the boy, she accused me of having a dirty mind, said she trusts both her daughter and the boy and told me to keep my nose out of her business. Am I wrong or right? —WORRIED AUNT

Dear Aunt: Anyone who reads my column knows my views on going steady. I am 100 per cent against it. The situation you describe sounds like trouble. But unless your sister asked for your advice you should not have offered it. Unsolicited counsel is generally considered interference.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm still burning about the folks who criticized that wonderful couple in their 70's who like to dance. That peppy pair should be getting bouquets, not bricks.

My grandparents are 78 and 81. They still play golf and swim almost every day. They also enjoy hiking and can dance rings around us kids. Grandpa plays the banjo and grandma plays the piano. They are the life of any party.

I'm a teen-ager who thinks it's wonderful when older folks WANT to do things like that. Don't you? —PROUD OF THEM

Dear Proud: Indeed I do, but it takes a great deal more than just WANTING to do these things, Dearest.

You are too young to know an old song that went like this: "When the mind has desires that the body can't fill, you're over the hill, brother—over the hill."

No teen-ager is as confident as he appears. Get clued in. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35¢ in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Building Permit Value Dips Again

NEW YORK (AP) — The value of building permits issued dropped in July for the fourth straight month, Dun & Bradstreet Inc. reports.

The total for the first seven months was 1.1 per cent higher than a year ago.

The figures cover the nation's 200 largest cities.

Through the end of July, the value of permits issued in Los Angeles was down 34.7 per cent to $311.4 million; San Francisco, down 31.5 per cent to $281.7 million; and Detroit, 28.1 per cent to $260 million.

Value of permits issued in Chicago, however, was up 39.6 per cent to $208.3 million; St. Louis, 66.2 per cent to $72.7 million; Boston, 46.8 per cent to $65.9 million, and Honolulu, 41.2 per cent to $170.5 million.

Women's Activities

Country Club Pay-Off Dinner Set Wednesday

In keeping with the awards to be presented, a night of celebration is planned for all women of the Escanaba Country Club on Wednesday, Sept. 14.

A tasty buffet supper will be served at 7 p. m. and preceding the dinner, cocktail tabs, for golf members only will be honored (from 6 to 7 p. m.).

No meeting will be held as the final golf meeting will be held at the closing luncheon on Saturday, September 24 when election of officers will also be held.

Guests are welcome to attend the Pay-Off dinner and league members and subs are especially urged to attend as all trophies and prizes for the year will be presented. A scrapbook of league activities for the year will also be on display.

Following the program, cards and an informal songfest will be held. Amateurs with ukuleles will be on hand and guitars are welcome. Reservations must be made at the club house by noon Tuesday, Sept. 13.

Story Time At Public Library

The first Story Time of the school year will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday morning in the Children's Room of Escanaba Public Library. All boys and girls of age three and above are invited to attend.

The stories will be: "Mrs. McGarrity's Peppermint Sweater" — Mrs. McGarrity dearly loved to knit, but she always forgot to count her stitches; "Why Is An Elephant Called an Elephant?" — a little boy in a great big palace sees a picture of an elephant and wonders why it is called an elephant, and finds out why for a very funny reason; and the final story of the program will be "The 40th Magician" — a king makes one too many promises, with some sad results.

Carol Kleiber Bride Of Vincent R. Eade

Miss Carol Kleiber of Milwaukee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kleiber, 215 Spring St., Campbellport, Wis., and Vincent R. Eade, 3900 W. Howard Ave., Milwaukee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Eade, 119 S. 3rd St., Escanaba were married Saturday, Sept. 3 at 11 a. m. at St. Matthew's Church in Campbellport.

The Rev. Warren J. Schmitt officiated at the nuptial high mass before altars decorated with bouquets of white and aqua gladioli. Traditional wedding music was provided by the School Sisters and the church choir.

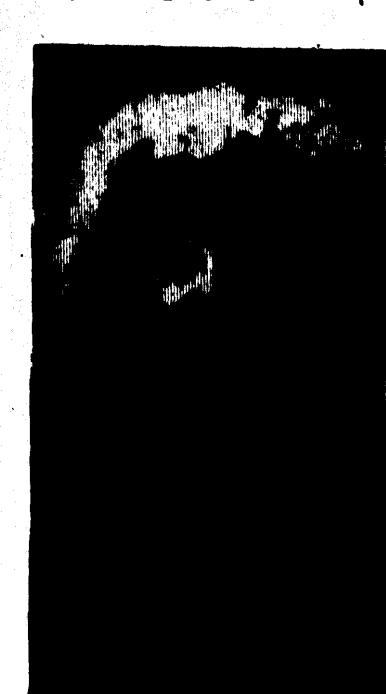

Traditional Gown
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown styled with a Sabrina neckline etched in applied sequins and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt of Bombeze and lace flowed to the floor and was edged with a large ruffle of imported rose-point lace. Her rosette headpiece encircled with lace leaves held her bouffant elbow length veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Miss Joyce Kleiber was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaid was Miss Mary Anders. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Georgia Kleiber.

They were attired in floor length gowns of shaded aqua fashioned with scoop necklines, elbow length sleeves and lace bodices. Their bussel nosegay veils were secured by crystal and pearl headpieces and they carried cascades of aqua carnations.

Floyd Eade was bestman for his brother and Paul Anders was groomsmen. Seating the guests were Richard Ketter, John Venturini and Lee Arndt.

Reception
Dinner for the immediate family and relatives was served at the "Colony" in Fond du Lac with a reception following. Following a wedding trip to the Life Policy Is A Life Saver For Tight Cash Era

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP)—Faced with some of the highest interest rates in decades, more and more Americans are finding a lifesaver in their life insurance policies.

Loans granted on policies in the first half of this year jumped 6.3 per cent to $8,163, according to a survey by the Life Insurance Institute of America.

Charge only 5 per cent generally, although the rate may be higher in some states. Ask no questions, conduct no investigation, turn down no legitimate request.

Permit irregular repayments over a period of time that you, yourself, set.

Despite the ease of a policy loan, insurance companies caution that such money shouldn't be borrowed frivolously. Your protection is automatically reduced by the amount of the loan.

Borrowing the cash value of a life insurance policy is a contractual right written into most policies other than "term" policies. It gives you first claim on the money at the low rate even if the insurer could get a higher rate elsewhere—as he can today. Term insurance has protection value but no cash or loan value.

The nation's three largest life insurers—Metropolitan, Prudential and Equitable—are among those which report recent increases in the number of policy loans.

Prudential, for example, loaned $42 million more through July of this year than in the same seven months a year ago. Equitable's loans through June totaled 3.75 per cent of its assets, a figure that appears small until you find it totals about $450 million.

Information regarding the loan provisions is included in your policy, along with a chart showing the cash-surrender value and the loan value of the policy for each year of its life.

000,000 from $7,420,000,000 in the same period of 1965.

At a time when banks are charging more, asking more questions, beginning to turn down more requests, conducting stiffer investigations, and making repayment terms a bit more difficult, the insurance companies are offering a lifeline.

Young Musicians Hailed Promoters Of Understanding

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson hailed 13 young American musicians—winners of an international competition in Moscow—for doing more than diplomats to inspire understanding between the United States and the Soviet Union.

He bestowed the title "national treasures" before a White House audience that included some of the elite of America's world of music and the performing arts. With the Soviet minister counselor, Alexander I. Zin-chuk, in a front-row East Room seat, Johnson declared:

"I hope history will record this example of how music has reached across the oceans, the walls and the ideologies that separate us, and found response in the hearts of the Russian people. I hope that it will be followed by other actions in other fields so that other threads of understanding can be strung across the space between us."

Afterwards, mingling at a buffet supper in the state dining room, Zin-chuk said Johnson's remarks were "very true."

As for the basement, it has been divided by the architect into two large game or recreation rooms, a utility section and a lavatory. Finishing it according to these plans can be done when the house is built or at some later date.

work of an interesting contemporary ranch, using contrasts of vertical siding and stone veneer, with a long planter as a decorative accent.

To the right of the center hall, so important in modern design as a traffic delineator, is what might be called the formal area of the house—the living room and dining room. The two rooms get a sense of separateness from wrought iron dividers, which nevertheless do not destroy the open flow of space in an expanse of more than 28'. Note the large amounts of wall space in both rooms in line with the requirements of families who felt that the placement of furniture was difficult with walls that are "cut up" too much.

Straight ahead from the entry foyer are the family room and kitchen, comprising the highlight area of the house. The family room is 15' by 20', the kitchen 13' by 15'. Here again the architect has used the separate-but-open type of planning, utilizing an island counter as the line of demarcation, with storage facilities between the kitchen and the dinette end of the family room.

The end wall in the family room is brick and has a fireplace with a raised hearth. Sliding glass doors lead to the rear, giving a feeling of outdoor living even when seated in front of the fireplace. A service door leads from the kitchen to the rear yard, while another door serves as an entrance to the garage. This second door is next to the laundry area, which is set off by louvered doors.

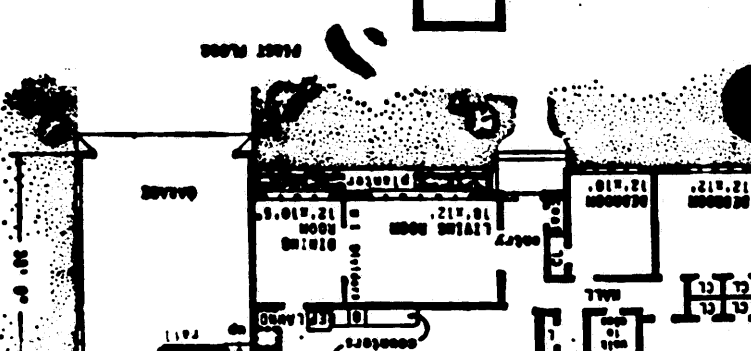

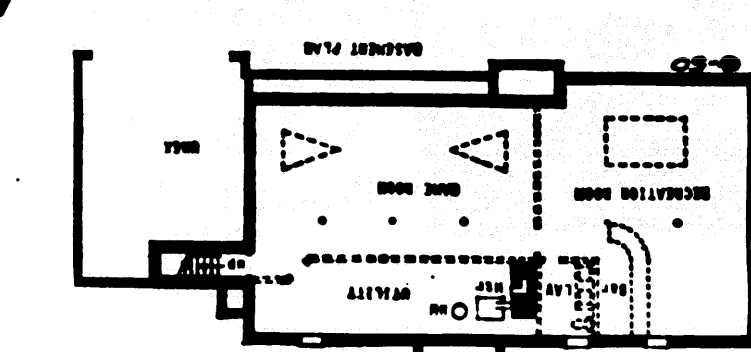

To the right of the center hall is the bedroom wing, with three rooms, two baths and plenty of closet space. One bath is, of course, accessible from the master bedroom.

What about that inconspicuous stairway? It has been cleverly located in the rear part of the garage, directly next to the kitchen door. This keeps it out of sight, yet within easy reach of both the inside and the outside, since there is also an entrance to the garage in that rear area. Going to the basement can thus be negotiated from the house or the outside, an important factor if anything has to be taken downstairs.

As for the basement, it has been divided by the architect into two large game or recreation rooms, a utility section and a lavatory. Finishing it according to these plans can be done when the house is built or at some later date.

FLOOR PLANS:

The traffic pattern in this ranch house is excellent, with the center hall leading directly to the living-dining area, the bedroom wing and the family room-kitchen combination. The basement stairway is accessible from inside and outside.

Eddie McGloin To Coordinate Demo Statewide Effort

DETROIT (AP)—G. Mennen Williams, candidate for the U.S. Senate, and Zolton Ferency, candidate for governor, have announced the appointment of Eddie McGloin as campaign coordinator for all Democratic candidates for statewide office.

McGloin was campaign manager for Williams prior to the primary election and formerly was affiliated with the office of Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich.

Williams also announced the appointment of Helen Berthelot as manager of his campaign.

Bove Reappointed To Liquor Control

LANSING (AP)—Armand Bove of St. Clair Shores, an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney general, was reappointed by Gov. George Romney to the State Liquor Control Commission.

Senate confirmation is required.

Game Laws Apply To Servicemen

LANSING (AP)—Military men are not exempt from arrest for violation of Michigan conservation laws, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled here. Ralph Macmullen, state conservation director, had noted that a state law protects servicemen from arrest "except for treason, felony or breach of the peace."

Kelley said courts have interpreted that phrase to mean all crimes.

Circuit Court Jury Drawn

A panel of 24 jurors has been drawn for the Circuit Court term beginning Sept. 19. The calendar includes six criminal cases, four of which are appeals from justice court.

Also on the calendar are four civil cases, seven auto negligence cases, and 10 divorce matters. Eight no progress cases also are listed.

Picked for jury duty are Harold J. Demars, S. Mackinnon; Mabel Patz, 316 N. Houghton; Averill Beaudry, N. 5th St.; Dallas M. Creeger, S. Cedar St.; Clyde Tank, 315 Oak; Gary J. Weber, 312 Iron; Dale Ott, 704 Garden; Paul Hansen, 530 Washington; Vivian L. Bradley, Lake Shore Drive; Mary L. Murphy, Gulliver; Verner A. Nelson, Gulliver; John Zellar, S. Germfask; Shirley Lawrence, Germfask; Alice McDermott, Indian Lake; Mildred M. DeVine, State Road; Harold Knuth, Cooks; Elsie Olsen, Cooks; Lloyd W. Brown, Manistique Township; William J. Hubble, Manistique Township; Frank R. Wilcox, Gulliver; Edith Schwichow, Gulliver; Victor Miller, Seney; June E. Hoholik, Thompson; Georgia Othout, Thompson.

City Finance

Earlier this year the Daily Press published a report of Vilhoim Loman Associates in which it was reported the city had income in excess of expenditures of $78,612.88 in the past two fiscal years, and expenditures in excess of income of $10,040.52 in the years 1966-67.

At a Council meeting following the publication there was indication that "the city owed itself money," that it didn't have that much unused funds.

The current audit, by Schneider, Larche and Haspaal of Escanaba shows a surplus of $16,467.62, of which $7,526.74 is from the fiscal year which ended April 30 and $8,940.88 from the one preceding.

Because the difference of income over expenditures in the past six years, according to the Vilhoim Loman report and the current audit is $68,399, not $16,467.62, the Press wrote to City Manager S. C. Goeke Jr., asking for an explanation in writing of the difference. To date no written answer has been received. Ralph Ekstrom, city clerk-treasurer, telephoned and said the 1963 audit had an "adjusted deficit of $45,000" and that this probably explained the difference. He said the city had invoices payable and the money had to be used to pay them.

A check of the 1963 audit shows that the city changed its accounting system May 1, 1962 from the cash to accrual method and that the net effect was to increase the city surplus deficit $59,958.62. The audit was by Ernst and Ernst. The following year, Schneider, Larche and Haspaal prepared the city audit and in presenting the report to the Council said the city had no deficit, that the prior audit had included all amounts owed on time contracts, not just that owed in the current year, and that excess of income over expenditure was sufficient to balance the remainder.

The clerk-treasurer said this week that $20,000 of the city income was from sale of the old city hall building. If that were taken from the $16,467.62 surplus, the result would be a minus $3,532.38.

The information comes in a period following heavy cut-back to eliminate deficit, increased revenues from a garbage service charge and the state, and at a time when the community is hopeful of capital improvements. Mayor Thor Reque has scheduled a meeting Sept. 13 to discuss improvements.

Area Walleye, Pike, Perch Fishing Good

Brook trout fishing in streams has been low to fair, the Conservation department reports. Rainbow fishing on lakes has improved. Walleye, pike and perch fishing has been generally good throughout the eastern U.P. district, with bass and bluegill fishing improving. Panfish results are generally good.

Stoner Creek in Alger County, Carp River in Mackinac, Silver Creek and Silver Creek ponds and West Branch of the Two-Hearted River in Luce, and the Fox River, above Wagner Dam in Schoolcraft County are reported good brook trout possibilities.

Dodge and Clear lakes in Schoolcraft are reported good sites for rainbows, using night crawlers and a lantern for night fishing. Lake trout can be taken in Whitefish Bay in Chippewa County, trolling. Good catches of Menominee have been made at the mouth of the Two Hearted River.

Possibilities for northern pike are Nawaka Lake, Lower Tahquamenon River, where an 18½ pound, 40-inch fish was taken, Scotts Bay, Raber Bay, and Caribou Lake, Blind Sucker Flooding, Muskegon, Manistique and Round lakes, Brevoort, Milleccoquins, Millekoka lakes, Lake Michigan off Green Island and Indian and Snyder lakes.

For walleye the department lists Nawaka Lake, Raber Bay, Tahquamenon River, above and below the falls, and between Newberry and McPhee's landing. Big Manistique lakes, Steuben area lakes and Indian Lake are rated possibilities for yellow perch.

Smallmouth bass possibilities are Big Bay de Noc at Fayette, and the Lower Tahquamenon. For bluegill fishing they are Steuben area lakes, Whitefish and Brevoort lakes. Bullheads should be found in Nawaka Lake, Tahquamenon River and Rexton Lake.

Women's Golf Winners Named

Briefly Told

Application for a marriage license has been made by Robert E. Berry, Germfask and Judy Mae Lee, Gulliver.

State Police ticketed Joyce E. Cousins, Union Lake and John S. Yardley, Munising, speeding; George F. Fish, Rte. 1, excessive vehicle noise; Donald L. Gehrett, Curtis and Joe C. Lestatz, Engadine, speeding with motorbike.

In a Justice Court trial Thursday, Warren T. Coutu, 44, of Rte. 1 was found guilty on a Public Safety department charge of disorderly conduct, lodged in investigation of a fight in a bar Aug. 13. Fine of $15 and costs of $6.30 were assessed. He also is to serve 20 days in jail and pay $50 of a fine suspended when he was placed on probation March 18.

John Smith, 63 of Gulliver was given a notice to appear for failing to yield right of way in an accident at 7:30 a.m., Thursday on U.S. 2 at Green School location. State Police said Smith was coming off County road 433 to U.S. 2 and due to moisture on windows did not see a car on U.S. 2 driven by Craig Dabroski, 17 of Rockford, Ill. Dabroski turned right in an effort to avoid the crash. The left side of his car and the front and right side of Smith's car were damaged.

The Women's Catholic Order of Foresters will meet Tuesday Sept. 12, at 8:00 p.m. The committee will be Mrs. Harold McNamara, Mrs. Fred Lesica, Mrs. Dan Malloy, Mrs. George

N.Y. Cops Think She's Beatlenut

By MARY CAMPBELL

NEW YORK (AP) — The Beatles have given seven "concerts" in New York and performed three times on the Ed Sullivan television show.

I've been to them all — as a reporter.

The police usually think I'm a beatle fan who has borrowed a press card. To them, a female — any age — looks like a potential screamer and barricade jumper. At every concert, some grandmother proves them right.

A long "discussion" at a television studio stage door was necessary before I was allowed to join the press corps in the cafeteria under the studio used by Sullivan. When my identity was finally established, a vice president sent a page boy to check that there was nobody in the men's room. There wasn't and the page guided me down a flight of stairs, into the men's room and out the other side, to the cafeteria. The vesp told me I'd be safer going in the back way.

The concerts indoors — the Paramount theater, where the girls used to swoon for Frankie; and two at Carnegie Hall, which now bans rock 'n' roll performances — seem louder than the concerts outdoors — two at Forest Hills tennis stadium, and two at Shea stadium. Sound waves from all that shrieking can't go away. They bounce around and hit your ears from the ceiling and floor and all sides and build and build and build.

The concert at the Paramount made me sick. I think the noise rattled my inner ear.

I felt off-balance and couldn't judge the height of steps to get out of the place. Back at the office, every time a finger bit the typewriter my brains felt as if they were floating slowly up and down. One of the editors suggested that I write a second story about how the Beatles made me sick, but I was too sick to write it.

I got a press card — once upon a time if you wrote about music you didn't need one — after Beatling at Forest Hills tennis stadium. I showed a borrowed press card with a man's name on it that turned out to be the favorite trick of the city's Beatle nuts and two policemen nearly threw me out. I stayed, with the tale that my mother had named me for her favorite brother and the name had been giving me trouble all my life and I didn't have time to discuss it now because I had work to do.

Last year at Shea stadium I had asked Paul McCartney if he intended to marry Jane Asher — a query forwarded from London. He said, "Probably."

This year, back at the stadium, for the first time not one policeman mistook me for a Beatle bug. Once, as I stood next to a couple of policemen, a cop demanded, "Why aren't you in uniform?"

Before I could reply, another cop said quickly, "Don't ask that and insult her. She's in the plainclothes division."

State Oil Worth $54.6 Million At Wellhead In '65

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Michigan has 51 counties with oil or gas wells and their 1966 production was worth an estimated $54.6 million at the well-heads.

An estimated 1,355 persons are employed in crude oil and natural gas production, and the value of crude oil produced since the first well was brought in is estimated at $1.07 billion.

These figures are contained in the latest national survey of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, which shows all but 17 of the Lower Peninsula's 68 counties have oil or gas wells. None is shown in the Upper Peninsula's 15 counties.

The number of producing oil wells at the end of 1965 was 4,269, while another 226 either were producing natural gas or natural gas liquids or both.

But the average daily production of crude oil per well at the end of 1965 was only 10.5 barrels and 78 per cent of the wells required pumping or artificial lift in bringing oil to the surface.

Michigan's crude oil production for 1965 was 14,583,000 barrels and the average field price of it was $2.79 per barrel.

In 1925, the first year of recorded production, the state's output was only 4,000 barrels, but in the recorded year of 1966 it was 23,462,000 barrels.

Chamber Plans Awards Dinner

The annual Awards Dinner of the Delta County Agricultural Booster Association will be held Thursday, Oct. 27 at Marco's, Manager Walter Lewke advised the Board of Directors of the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce at the September meeting at the chamber building, conducted by President Forrest Henslee.

The Agricultural Committee of the Chamber, George Bathke and Dick Marenger, co-chairmen of the Booster Association and the Agricultural committee, are cooperating with the MSU Extension Service, Joseph Heiman, director, in arrangements for the U.P. Potato Show to be held in Escanaba Nov. 2 and 3.

Scholarship awards were presented this month by the Booster Association to Jeanne

The board approved an ad in the 1967 Traveler.

The Chamber will cooperate with Michigan State University in an Industrial Extension Seminar to be held in Escanaba Friday, September 30 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. A school of packaging will be featured at the seminar with MSU professors James W. Goff, Harold J. Raphael and Howard C. Blake participating.

Conventions scheduled for this week-end include the U.P. Druggists Association, the Upper Michigan Optometric Society and the Central Upper Peninsula Life Underwriters Association, Lewke reported. The Convention Committees of the Chamber is cooperating with the Michigan Education Association in plans for their conference to be held here Thursday and Friday, Oct. 6 and 7. Lewke urged Escanaba home owners to register their rooms with the Chamber for the convention.

A reception for new teachers was held at the Chamber building Wednesday, Aug. 31, Lewke reported. Roses were presented to each teacher and Mrs. Robert Krohmer and Arthur W. Moberg discussed the economic and cultural advantages of the community.

Dean Abbott, chairman of the Retail Division, reported a successful Coupon Day promotion on Wednesday, Sept. 7.

The Board adopted a resolution commending President Forrest Henslee for a year of outstanding accomplishment under his direction and expressed their appreciation on behalf of the membership.

"The Chamber has had outstanding leadership under your direction," the Board noted, "and the Chamber has made great progress."

Lewke said Delta County has had one of its best years of tourism and this was due in great part to the president's interest in this area. "The Chamber has been strong and our accomplishments have been many under Henslee's leadership," said Lewke.

Elect Directors

Elected to three year terms on the Board of Directors of the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce in the final election which closed Thursday evening are Arthur C. Arch, Frank Bourke, Donald Brandt, Richard Marenger and Percy Rosemurgy.

Sundstrom & McClinchy Coasting

Deltans Boat To Newberry

Lowell Sundstrom of Escanaba and Richard McClinchy, Nahma Junction motel operator, were on the second day of their voyage around the eastern Upper Peninsula today.

They started before 7 a.m. Thursday from the Manistique Yacht Club in the Manistique River in McClinchy's 20-foot outboard cruiser with 75 hp motor.

Sundstrom, of the Cloverland Paper Co. of Escanaba, said he intended to call on its customers along the way, but that the trip was realization of a dream he has had for years of coasting the eastern Upper Peninsula in Lake Michigan and Lake Huron and then going up the St. Mary's River and into Whitefish Bay on Lake Superior to the mouth of the Tahquamenon River at the ghost town of Emerson.

Bark River Gets State Approval Of $13,565 Plan

LANSING—A $13,565 reading and guidance program for Bark River-Harris schools was one of 14 programs approved by the State Dept. of Education to be financed with $335,000 in federal funds.

State Supt. of Public Instruction Ira Polley said 173 projects totaling $8.3 million have been approved for the 1966-67 school year under provisions of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act passed by Congress last year.

The Bark River-Harris project is designed for 75 children in grades two through 12.

The only other Upper Peninsula project included in the latest approvals was a $7,440 reading program for Adams Township school district in Houghton County.

School District Vote To Decide State Aid Fate

GARDEN — The new East Delta School district will vote Monday on whether or not the district will receive state school aid for 1966-67.

That, explained Supt. Larry Lundell, is the practical effect of an election on operating millage asking a total of five mills for two years for school operation.

"If the millage is not approved, we won't have time to hold another election to get millage on the tax rolls," he said.

Unless the five mills is approved, total local levied millage will drop below the prescribed 10 mills required by the State to qualify for full state aid. Lundell explained that all previously voted millage in the four districts now consolidated into the East Delta District is void.

To Choose Board
Voters will also elect a new Board of Education, ballot on whether or not the district should continue to run its buses and determine whether or not salaries should be paid Board of Education members.

Eleven persons are seeking seven seats on the Board of Education — only one of them unopposed.

Mrs. Opal Gearhart of Nahma is unopposed for the one-year term. Running for two two-year terms are Alvin A. Pomeroy, Nahma; Carl VanRemortel, Fairbanks, and Richard Sobieski, Cooks.

Seeking three year terms are John Hartman, Cooks, Matthew Walters, Cooks, and Charles Rasmussen, Garden. Two will be elected.

Four persons are seeking two four-year terms. They are Pete Thelander, Cooks, Dale Carley, Garden, Orville Martin, Fairbanks, and Shirley Turek, Isabella.

Polls Listed
The question of whether or not the district should continue operating buses is a formality required by the state after a consolidation election, Lundell said. Once it is approved, it is in force for the length of existence of the district. If it fails, he said, residents would have to find their own methods of transporting their children to schools.

Salaries proposed for the Board of Education are $96 per year for trustees, $250 per year for the treasurer and $500 per year for the secretary.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. All registered voters of the district are eligible to vote. Polling places are: Precinct 1 - Cooks Town Hall; Precinct 2 - Fairbanks Town Hall; Precinct 3 - Garden Town Hall; Precinct 4 - Nahma Town Hall.

Tom Domres, former outstanding Gladstone High School athlete, was the heaviest player on the University of Wisconsin football squad at the official weigh-in this fall. Domres, a junior defensive tackle, tipped the scales at 234 pounds. He was listed at 229 last fall when he was regarded as the best Badger defensive lineman.

All four Upper Peninsula softball teams bit the dust in the state tournaments last weekend. Bill's Bar of Rapid River lost its opener, came back with a victory, and then lost a one-run decision to bow out of the Class D action at Coldwater. Franny Lancoeur pitched all three games and Poly Vlas contributed a homer. In Class C, Chatham V&B Bar also won one and lost two. Woody's bowed to Flint Top Hat, 1-0, in 14 innings and to Poroda, 4-3, in the Class A tournament. Marquette Northwood also lost two straight in the Class B tourney.

Jack Hooper retained his Pine Grove Country Club men's championship by beating Walt Bielita in the finals, 2-up. Hooper also won the Dickinson County golf crown last year and will be shooting for a repeat when he faces the Norway Oak Crest champion next week. Walt Sliwa and Lee Palmer will tangle for the Norway club crown this weekend.

Bill Connors, former Upper Peninsula golf champ, captured his 11th Marquette Country Club title by defeating Rick Maroon, 15 year old Marquette High School junior, in the finals, 5 and 4. Defending champion Paul Specker was eliminated in the quarterfinals.

Ken Nelson, 31 year old Ishpeming school teacher, won the Wawonawin Golf Club men's championship with a 1-up decision over Jim Olson of Ishpeming, a sophomore at Northern Michigan University.

The Gogebic Country Club men's crown was nailed down by A. R. Munari who trimmed former champion Nick Mlakovich 5 and 3 in the title match last weekend. The trophy was Munari's second of his career. In the Gogebic Club women's tournament finals Karen Newman beat defending champion Doreen Ahonen, 4 and 2.

The biggest score piled up on the opening weekend of the Upper Peninsula high school football season was a whopping 60 points for Coach Dick Koski's Ontonagon Polar Bears over Baraga, a school that was not expected to field a football team this fall. Ontonagon halfback Howie Hegg, playing only in the first half, scored four touchdowns and a PAT for 25 points.

Injuries are already taking their toll of U.P. prep grid-ers. Holy Name has lost the services of senior end Tom Plouff with a knee injury that required surgery following the opener against Iron Mountain. Menominee's senior end, Fred Mats, also suffered an injury in the opening game against Stambaugh last weekend and will miss Saturday night's game against Esby. Mats caught six passes for 111 yards against the Hilltoppers.

Some Tigers Don't Need September 'Salary Drive'

By BERNIE KENNEDY

DETROIT (AP) — That late-season surge normally referred to as the "salary drive" won't mean a thing to a number of Tigers simply because they have already improved on last year's performance. Larry Sherry, with a 7-4 record and a club-leading 15 saves, and Earl Wilson, the most effective Tiger pitcher in the last month, are sure to command more money when contract time rolls around.

Denny McLain, like Wilson, is fast approaching the coveted 20-win season and likewise will expect a raise. In the past, the Tigers had been accused of playing for the money alone once the pennant had been decided.

This year, however, they've got a slim chance of winning it all—Baltimore's magic number is 12—but apparently will settle for second place which will be worth almost $2,000 extra per man.

Among the hitters, Norm Cash leads the improvement parade. The veteran first baseman already has 23 more hits than he had in 1965 and needs just three home runs to match the 30 he hit last year and four runs batted in to equal the 82 last season.

Willie Horton, the team leader with 104 RBIs in 1965, needs just 13 to reach that figure and five more home runs to hit 29 for the second straight year. Al Kaline already has 11 more hits, eight more homers and five more RBIs than he had in 1965 and has upped his average 14 points.

Dick McAuliffe, who shared the leadoff duties with Don Wert for much of the season, has 10 fewer RBIs but has hit four more homers and improved his average by 21 points. Jim Northrup, Mickey Stanley and Don Wert are others who have done their part to keep the Tigers in contention by increasing their hit, home run and RBI production. The Tigers open a three-game weekend series against Kansas City tonight while the third-place Minnesota Twins, who are just 2½ games back of the Tigers, play host to the Orioles. Johnny Podres is Manager Frank Skaff's choice to face the A's tonight.

Browns Sign Pietrosante

CLEVELAND (AP) — Nick Pietrosante says he's glad to be in Cleveland, and the Browns are more than happy to have the veteran fullback to bolster their backfield now that Jim Brown is gone.

When the Browns open their season Sunday in Washington it will be the first time since 1957 that Brown hasn't been around. Pietrosante, who was cut by Detroit earlier this week, set a club rushing record with 3,933 yards in seven seasons with the Lions.

"I know I have several years of good football left," he said after signing with the Browns Thursday night. He will be 29 Saturday. "I talked with several other teams," said Pietrosante, but after spending Thursday afternoon with Browns owner Art Modell and Coach Blanton Collier he said he was "convinced I made the right move."

Terms of his one-year contract with the Browns were not disclosed.

New Format Up For Golf Series

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A new format is in the works for the World Series of Golf. Walter Schwimmer, Chicago dynamo who dreamed up the tournament in which the winners of the four major tournaments get together for a showdown, told The Associated Press Thursday of his newest idea.

Schwimmer wants to enlarge the field to eight players and extend the competition to 72 holes if he can get approval from the Professional Golfers Association.

The field this year includes Jack Nicklaus, winner of the Masters and British Open; Billy Casper, U.S. Open title; Al Geiberger, PGA champion, and Gene Littler.

Forecaster Favors Colts Over Packers Saturday

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Green Bay and Baltimore, the teams that fought into 13:39 of sudden-death overtime to determine the Western Conference champ last December, open the National Football League season Saturday night.

The Packers were without the services of Bart Starr during most of that playoff game, won by Don Chandler's field goal, 13-10. Baltimore didn't have Johnny Unitas or Gary Cuozzo and had to struggle through with Tom Matte calling the plays.

This is really a big one for opening day. The winners will be off and running for the Western title with a psychological edge that will make them tough to beat.

The Packers beat the Colts three times last year but Baltimore has been getting ready for this one since Dec. 26.

A full program of all games is on tap for the weekend in the NFL and the American Football League, which started its season a week ago. There will be a game tonight, three on Saturday night and seven on Sunday.

With a 3-0 break in the AFL opening week, the old hand picker has a little cushion for this tough weekend. He'll probably need it.

Here are the picks (all games Sunday unless otherwise noted).

NFL

Baltimore 20, Green Bay 17 (Saturday night)—Colts get even for that disputed Chandler field goal last year in battle of strong defensive units. Unitas is on target with 5-0 record in exhibitions. Packers' attack was spotty early but clicked in finale with Giants. A field goal could decide it.

Chicago 24, Detroit 7—Bears have Gale Sayers primed for fast start and pack too much punch for Lions' defense which must hold the fort all day while attack sputters.

Cleveland 21, Washington 17—Otto Graham makes his bow as Washington head coach against his old teammates. Sonny Jurgenson's passes will strain Browns' secondary but Cleveland has too many horses for Redskins, even without Jim Brown.

Los Angeles 28, Atlanta 10—George Allen has Rams moving in high gear with tight defense and improved offense. Falcons are beginning to jell but they are not ready to handle experienced Rams.

Minnesota 21, San Francisco 17—Could go even higher. Vikings can move the ball, so can 49ers now that John Brodie is beginning to hit his stride. Both teams weak in deep defense but Vikings appear better prepared at this stage of season.

New York 17, Pittsburgh 10—Giants beat Steelers 16-14 in exhibition game at Ithaca, N.Y. Bill Austin has shored up offensive line and could surprise if Bill Asbury is as good as he looks. Despite loss of Tucker Frederickson, Giants have edge on passing of Earl Morrall.

St. Louis 24, Philadelphia 21—Eagles sprung a leak on defense against Redskins last week. Several key Philadelphia men in doubtful status due to injuries. Dallas draws a bye.

AFL

New York 35, Miami 7 (tonight)—Jets are unbeaten in exhibitions and figure to be too much for Dolphins in Orange Bowl, no matter whether Weeb Ewbank uses Mike Talliaferro or Joe Namath. Jets bombed Dolphins in exhibition 31-14.

San Diego 28, Boston 14 (Saturday night)—Chargers run hot and cold but should be flying high after opening win over Buffalo. Patriots appear improved but not that much. San Diego won exhibition from Boston 31-13.

Houston 28, Oakland 14 (Saturday night)—Wally Lemm's Oilers sprinted to fast start with George Blanda at controls in opening romp over Denver. Oakland had trouble in Miami and may not be quite ready.

Kansas City 24, Buffalo 14—Chiefs went unbeaten in preseason campaign but will run into aroused Bills, who will be playing before home folks after losing opener at San Diego. Erratic passing of sore-armed Jack Kemp leaves door open for Chiefs.

Denver draws a bye.

Northern Michigan Faces Iowa Eleven

By The Associated Press

A new coach and another starting his last season at the helm will send their teams into action Saturday to open the Michigan small college football season.

Northern Michigan, with Rolfe Dotach making his initial appearance as head coach, plays host to State College of Iowa in an afternoon game. Kickoff is 1:30 p.m.

Central Michigan faces Wisconsin State-Whitewater under the lights at Saginaw in the annual Red Feather game. CMU coach Bill Kelly has already announced his intention to retire at the close of his 16th season as head man of the Chippewas.

Dotach, a former assistant at NMU, has changed the Wildcats' offense to the wing-T with an unbalanced line and split end.

Consistent quarterbacking and a lack of speed in the backfield appear to be his main problems.

Northern posted a 7-3 mark last year. One of the victories was a 10-7 decision over the Iowa school, its first in three meetings.

Central Michigan, 5-5 last year, will field a young team. Kelly has 34 returning lettermen but only 12 of them are seniors.

CMU jumped to a 13-0 lead over Whitewater in last year's Red Feather game but the visitors stormed back in the second half to win 35-13.

Central is 6-7 in the charity classic. Eleven more of the state's small colleges will join the three major ones in opening their seasons next week.

Remember Bob Hazle? Giants Have Johnson

By The Associated Press

Sometimes a player who isn't even around for the opening day ceremonies can help his team lift the flag.

It's happened scores of times in big league baseball, and it's liable to happen again this year as Pittsburgh, San Francisco and Los Angeles get set for one of the National League's patented breath-taking finishes.

The Pirates lead the Giants by one-half game while the Dodgers are third, 1½ games from the top. Action resumes tonight following Thursday's open date in each major league. All three of the high-ranking NL contenders are home, the Pirates hosting St. Louis, the Giants taking on the Chicago Cubs and the Dodgers meeting Houston.

Remember Floyd Giebel? Bob Hazle? Dick Nen? They are only three players who came out of nowhere to help their clubs win a pennant in the final weeks.

Giebel came up to Detroit from Buffalo of the International late in the 1940 season and pitched the Tigers to a pennant-clinching victory over Cleveland. He beat Bobby Feller, the Indians' great right-hander, in a brilliant duel, 2-0.

The Milwaukee Braves brought up Hazle, an outfielder, from Wichita of the American Association after the halfway mark in 1957 and Hazle responded with a .403 batting mark for 41 games. The Braves won the pennant, and the World Series, too.

Nen, a big first baseman, was recalled from Spokane of the Pacific Coast League by the LA Dodgers late in 1963. He walloped a dramatic home run in St. Louis that enabled Walt Alston's men to sweep a three-game series with the runner-up Cardinals and move onto the flag.

Now comes Frank Johnson, a Texan who broke into the major leagues in a big way Wednesday night. San Francisco brought up the 24-year-old outfielder from Phoenix, Ariz., and his 12th-inning single scored Willie Mays from first base with the run that gave the Giants a 3-2 victory over the Dodgers.

Johnson is a 6-foot-1, 160 pounder who makes his home in El Paso, Tex., and Wednesday night's was the first big league game he ever saw.

It's a close race in the American League, too, for some positions, but not first. Baltimore has it just about sewed up, holding a 10½ game lead over second-place Detroit. The slumping New York Yankees have dropped into the cellar.

Baltimore is at Minnesota tonight.

Konas Relected Softball Chief

Clarence Konas was re-elected president of the Escanaba Softball Association at the annual dinner at the P&H Rod & Gun Club Thursday night.

Other officers named were Bob Karas, vice president, and Bob Corriveau, secretary-treasurer. Selected to the Board of Directors were BJ McGovern, Bill Rodman and Ray Crandall.

Trophies were presented to the Merchants as league and American Division city tournament champions and to Mead as National Division tournament champion. Presentations were made by Larry Bero.

Mildenberger Plans To 'Fight For Life'

By The Associated Press

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — "I'll fight for my life," Karl Mildenberger said determinedly today of his bout against world heavyweight champion Cassius Clay Saturday night.

The odds-makers, who don't think the German southpaw's life is worth a much, have made Clay, unbeaten in 25 pro bouts, a 10-1 favorite to win his sixth title defense and fourth this year.

"I believe in my chances," emphasized Mildenberger, who has won 49 bouts, 17 by knockout and is the European titleholder. "I've trained hard and if it doesn't work out, then Clay is the greatest."

The Greatest, from Louisville,

Ky., already is looking past Saturday night's scheduled 15-rounder toward future matches against Cleveland Williams and Ernie Terrell. He indicated that he would meet Williams in Houston, Tex., in about two months and Terrell, the World Boxing Association titleholder, in Chicago or New York early in 1967.

The fight will be telecast by closed circuit to theaters in London and also via the Early Bird satellite to the United States. The American television by ABC will start at 2:30 p.m. EDT. The fight will start about 3 p.m.

Tiger Trainer, Homel, To Retire

DETROIT (AP)—Jack Homel, retiring at the end of the season after 21 years as trainer for the Detroit Tigers, was honored at a dinner Thursday night.

Homel received a gift from the hosting Detroit chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

A number of Tiger officials also were in attendance.

Early October Planting Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Warren G. Magnuson and a national committee want you to get out during the week of Oct. 2-8 and plant things.

That's "National Spring Garden Planting Week."

That's the time, they say, to plant lawns, trees, shrubs and bulbs to bring that first splash of cheer after a dreary winter.

The Senate has passed a resolution authorizing the President to proclaim Oct. 2-8 of each year as spring garden planting week. But it has languished in the House Judiciary Committee.

It's not that members there are against spring garden planting — some reportedly are against any more special weeks being proclaimed.

"If Congress doesn't pass it, we'll still keep going," Mrs. Warren G. Magnuson, chairman of the National Spring Garden Planting Week committee, said in an interview. She is the wife of the Democratic senator from Washington, who was author of the resolution.

The committee wrote to all the governors and in reply, 12 have issued proclamations for the special planting week in their own states; seven have promised to issue proclamations, and five have said they will do it if Congress approves the resolution.

In his proclamation, Gov. John A. Love of Colorado, hit the theme of the sponsors, saying: "Every seed sown, each tree planted and every flower bulb placed in the ground will contribute to a more beautiful America."

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky tied it in with his state's efforts to "make Kentucky a cleaner-greener land."

State garden clubs are participating in the drive, along with gardening magazines, nurserymen and garden writers. Sen. and Mrs. Magnuson have shrubs, flowers and trees back in their Seattle home.

In their Washington apartment, the senator keeps two potted plants on his desk. He babies and waters them with his own plastic watering can.

Ky To Address AP Editors In San Diego Meet

TAY NINH, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky said that he has accepted an invitation to address the Associated Press Managing Editors convention in San Diego, Calif., in November.

Ky told newsmen he also planned to show his wife some of the United States during the trip.

The premier said he would make a private visit to the United States.

Week Of Action Planned In Tube

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — In the old TV tradition, the audience was permitted a long farewell to summer: to take a look at the new Miss America, always picked on the weekend after Labor Day. Then the new season was launched.

But this season, ABC jumped the starting gun by almost a week and NBC slipped a few new shows into the channels Thursday night. Even so, there will be such a wealth of premieres, specials and important movie reruns during the next seven days of network broadcasting that no one can possibly catch all the action.

Taking the goings-on in chronological order, the next few days shape up like this:

Tonight's ABC premieres start at 7:30, EDT, with the half-hour "Green Hornet," a lineal if not spiritual descendant of "Batman." It will be followed by "Time Tunnel," science-fiction saga (8-9). Then comes "The Milton Berle Show" (9-10), a variety show with the former favorite attempting a comeback. "Shane," an adaptation of the 1953 Western movie, will hit the ABC channels on Saturday evening, 7:30-8:30. NBC will present a special variety hour aimed at high school and college students called "Class of '67" (9-10) after which the network will devote the usual two hours (10-midnight) to the "Miss America" drama.

Imogene Coca and Joe E. Ross will star in a Stone Age comedy series, "It's About Time," which will have its CBS premiere Sunday night (7:30-8). NBC's "Hey, Landlord," a comedy about two young bachelors in New York (8:30-9) will be followed by the new CBS variety hour, "The Garry Moore Show" (9-10).

ABC's "Iron Horse," an hour Western, and NBC's "The Monkees," a half-hour comedy about a rock 'n' roll quartet, will compete for attention in the 7:30 spot on the Monday night schedule. "Run, Buddy, Run," a CBS comedy, will have its first outing (8-9:30), followed by NBC's "Roger Miller Show" (9:30-10), a variety program. "The Road West," another Western, arrives on NBC (9-10), while CBS' "Family Affair" starts at its half-way mark (9:30-10). CBS' "Jean Arthur Show," with the film star playing a lady lawyer, winds up the evening's premieres (10-10:30).

Tuesday is almost as busy. There is NBC's "The Girl from U.N.C.L.E." (7:30-8:30), followed by "Occasional Wife," a situation comedy, which will conflict with the start of ABC's "Rat Patrol" (8:30-9) about adventures of Allied soldiers against Rommel's Africa Corps. "Felon Squad," a police story, will have its ABC premiere (9-9:30). There will also be a CBS news special, "Young Mr. Eisenhower," a documentary of the former president's early years (10-11).

"The Love Song of Barney Kempinski," first of ABC's "Stage 67" series of weekly specials, arrives on Wednesday (10-11).

Control Agency

DETROIT (AP) — The government Wednesday announced a centralized employment agency for all federal jobs in Michigan. The agency, located in the Lafayette Building in downtown Detroit, replaces 14 former Civil Service employment offices throughout Michigan.

During most of this period, most of the established shows will be returning with new stories and, in many cases, converted to color. As if this were not confusing enough, there will also be a number of old shows seen in new time slots. It is a good week in which to study the program schedules carefully.

Don't miss the big "OPEN HOUSE" this weekend at the CHARLES GAFNER SUB-DIVISION beautiful, completely new 3 bedroom homes for only $13,500. Get complete details on the classified page.
